LERMACON is the only Michigan-specific law enforcement records conference. Attendees will experience solution series where the programming will focus on efficiency and best practices that can be brought back and applied in the real world. Attendees will participate in multiple general sessions where relevant topics will be explored in-depth, and a robust breakout series will ensure all attendees have the opportunity to receive the latest legal and policy updates directly from subject matter experts. LERMA takes a 360-degree approach to our programming with a focus on educating our members on all facets of law enforcement records management. No other conference will provide such a comprehensive experience.

LERMACON will be a full two-day conference this year, increasing the value to our members and the return on investment for member agencies. The LERMACON registration fee includes:

- Parking at the conference center
- Three meals and two snacks
- Two full days of educational programming and professional development including multiple general sessions, workshops, and breakout sessions
- Experience our keynote address The Fight After the Fight by Officer Ann Carrizales
- Networking opportunities with fellow records professionals from neighboring agencies
